

Andrea Cavallotti

HEAD OF HUMAN RESOURCE

He graduated in Law from the University of Milan in 1993 and earned his Master's Degree in Human Resources Management in 1996.

He began his career in the HR Management Department of leading industrial groups in the province of Bergamo and, following a stint as Head Hunter in the ICT market, he later held functional roles in the recruitment and training sector, as well as managerial roles in the HR departments of some of the top multinational companies in the IT sector, including Compaq, HP, EMC2 and Dell Technologies.

He is responsible for "Professional Coaching", for which he earned ICF (International Coaching Federation) certification, and for psychological identification (MBTI) systems, for which he is certified "practitioner".