

‘IL LIBRO POSSIBILE’ [The Possible Book]: TALES OF SCIENCE, POETRY AND THE FUTURE WITH THE SUPPORT OF EXPRIVIA|ITALTEL

On 4 July at 21.00 President and CEO Domenico Favuzzi will speak with the world-famous mathematician Alfio Quarteroni

Bari, 2 July 2019 - The digital revolution and the moon landing: after 50 years, two events that each changed the concept of the future in their own way. This is why Exprivia|Italtel - the international Information and Communication Technology group - chose to support 'Il Libro Possibile', the festival held in Polignano a Mare. This year the festival is celebrating the anniversary of the event that profoundly changed the collective imagination, making space a truly accessible frontier.

Exprivia|Italtel has also been involved in the study of technology solutions for observing the earth and the other planets for years, and will be featured in a talk during the cultural festival.

The event scheduled for Thursday 4 July will involve the mathematician Alfio Quarteroni and the President of Exprivia|Italtel, Domenico Favuzzi, with a discussion on "1969-2019: from the exploration of the cosmos to that of the web, social networks and big data, thanks to mathematics".

The event will take place in Piazza San Benedetto.

The Apulian festival is a new opportunity for Exprivia|Italtel to contribute to spreading culture in the area where it operates, an indispensable basis for any innovation that goes hand in hand with social progress.
