

DIGITAL HEALTHCARE: EXPRIVIA TECHNOLOGY IN RADIOLOGY DEPARTMENTS AND INAIL LEGAL MEDICINE CENTRES ACROSS ITALY

Molfetta, 17 December 2016 – Exprivia Healthcare IT, the company in the Exprivia group that operates on the digital healthcare market, was awarded the tender published by Consip on behalf of INAIL for the supply of the diagnostic imaging management software in radiology departments and at legal medicine centres distributed across Italy.

The Exprivia RIS/PACS system, designed and integrated in accordance with the highest security standards with the INAIL information system, will be used to control the radiology and reporting procedures and share the digital images between the various facilities irrespective of the place where the diagnostic examination is actually conducted. This software will enable INAIL to acquire the clinical/diagnostic images at its centres distributed all over Italy in a 'hub & spoke' architecture and, through the broad-band network, transfer them to the reporting centres, places where specialists in the diagnostic discipline will examine them and write the clinical reports with remote consulting, where necessary.

The project will include all 46 INAIL offices distributed across all regions of Italy, as well as the two INAIL DPC sites in Rome.

«The awarding of this important project – declares Dante Altomare, President of Exprivia HealthCare IT – makes us extremely proud of the recognition given to our diagnostic imaging management technology, already used successfully both in the public sector, from the Marche to Veneto, and in the private sector, at the service of leading healthcare groups. It represents one of the most significant innovations in the clinical/diagnostic sector of remote medicine, leading us along the path towards a continual improvement of technology with a view to contributing to the digital conversion of healthcare in Italy»
